PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE by Ed Wetmore

Wow!!!, it's September, where did the summer go? I know fall is just a few weeks away when I start receiving the new storage and winterization costs from my marina. I just finished polishing the stainless steel on my boat when I looked up and saw some of the other boats coming in with a fluke or two and realized that fluke season ends on the 10th of September. Last year we were fishing the flat fish until October with great weather and the tourists gone, now that's priceless.

I am very disappointed with the EARLY fluke season this year and I am sure all of you feel the same way. I guess until the striped bass start running in October we do have sea bass, blackfish, blues and croakers so there is still great fishing in the our waters.

The sea bass and fluke tournament was a great success with over 30 fishermen/women signed up and the results of that tournament will be announced at the September 14th general membership meeting. The hoagies we had at the Logan's home were great and once again thank you to Arleen and Bill Logan for allowing us to use their home for the after tournament festivities.

The blue fish caught by Paul Galasso was good enough to win the July fish of the month award so congratulations to Paul. The fish of the month award winner for August, which happens to be black sea bass, will be announced at the September 14th meeting. The winner for August as of this writing was unknown. The fish of the month for September is fluke and croaker, good luck and I hope I am announcing your name for these awards.

The 2007 dinner dance held at Ocean acres county club on Friday the 31st was a great success with 70 people in attendance; we had great food, music and prizes. I was told by many people that they had a great time. I and Bill Logan want to thank every one who came and we are glad all of you enjoyed yourselves.

At our next meeting the speaker will be Bryan Rose and the topic will be "striper fishing with jigs and artificial lures. This sounds like a very interesting topic and since a lot of us boat and surf fish for stripers in the fall this could be very beneficial.

The hands on table will be available so that you can ask questions on the best techniques for surf fishing, striper fishing or what ever you may want to know and hopefully you can enjoy catching that striper you always dreamed of landing.

There have been too many boating accidents this year with some resulting in death, please be careful and remember the first rule of navigation: "Avoid Collisions" regardless of who has the right of way on the water.

I wish all you the very best in fishing and boat safety..... Catch Fish and have fun

WHAT A FLUKE! by Vince Sibona

This photo is for the newsletter, the web site and whatever else. John Lyszcza came fluke fishing with me on the SEA BONA, Wednesday, August 29. As we left the inlet, John said he had a feeling one of us was going to catch a big Fluke. John never says anything like that! We fished 50 feet of water off the bathing beach at Island Beach State Park. I caught this fluke at about 8:30 AM. The drift was slow and not much going on. I started eating a sandwich, as I watched my 2 rods in the rod holders. Something started tapping one rod. I put down my tasty sandwich and picked up the rod. The fluke played with the bait for a while, and then I set the hook. When I brought the fish up, John netted it for me. The fluke weighed in at 10 lbs. 9 oz., 30 inches long at Fisherman's Headquarters. The fluke was caught on squid and killie on a light green B2 squid rig. A total of 6 keeper fluke were caught.

EDITORS NOTE: Ever notice that the fish always bite when we're eating a sandwich?

VINCE & HIS SUPER DOORMAT!

WHEN JOHN SAYS YOU'RE GOING TO CATCH A BIG FLUKE, LISTEN VERY CAREFULLY!

FISHERY REGULATIONS ENFORCEMENT ON THE WATER by Bill Logan

Working to heighten awareness of New Jersey's marine fisheries regulations and the consequences of violating them, state conservation officers yesterday inspected scores of recreational fishing boats and popular fishing spots along the Sandy Hook and Raritan bays and the Arthur Kill.

Eighteen conservation officers with the Department of Environmental Protection's Division of Fish and Wildlife, Bureau of Law Enforcement checked 500 anglers during the eight-hour special operation -- part of an ongoing effort to spur greater compliance with regulations and laws that protect New Jersey's fish and wildlife resources.

Throughout the day, conservation officers inspected 195 private fishing vessels and also checked more than 100 anglers at various marinas and jetties along the targeted waters, Marine Region Capt. Joe Meyer said.

Conservation officers issued 53 summonses and six written warnings for various marine fisheries violations:

- 28 summonses for possession of summer flounder less than 17 inches
- 2 summonses for exceeding the limit on summer flounder
- 2 summonses for possession of weak fish less than 13 inches
- 8 summonses for possession of summer flounder parts
- 2 summonses for interference with a conservation officer for attempting to throw fish overboard
- 2 summonses for possession of undersized porgies
- 1 summons for possession of parts of porgies
- 1 summons for trespassing while fishing
- 2 summonses for possession of black sea bass less than 12 inches
- 1 summons for exceeding the limit of 15 blue fish
- 2 summonses for harvesting shellfish (mussels) from condemned waters of the Raritan and Sandy Hook bays
- 2 summonses for possession of undersized blue crabs
- 4 written warnings for harvesting hard crabs recreationally from the Newark Bay Complex
- 2 written warnings for dumping trash on a wildlife management area

Lawmen also seized a dozen fishing poles and one seine net used to illegally harvest marine species.

FLUKE & SEA BASS TOURNAMENT REPORT

by Ray Williams

Over 30 VHFC Members participated in the August Fluke & Sea Bass Tournament held on August 18th. Bill & Arleen Logan hosted a fantastic party afterwards at their home. Saturday, the day of the tournament, started out with sunny skies, & moderate temperatures. The only problem was the wind which definitely hampered efforts of our anglers to get out to the reefs. Although no Sea Bass were weighed in, there were quite a few fluke weighed in. The winner of the tournament will be announced at the September General meeting.

I would like to urge more of our members to get involved with these tournaments & to give us some feedback concerning the formats we use for setting up these events. It seems that our members really like tournaments that have a social get together for them & their spouses afterwards. Please let us know your thoughts about tournaments.

FISHING LOG by Bill Jann

Hello to all! Below is my log of our fishing trip last Sunday. One more great day on the water! Sorry, no pix, I forgot the camera trip #: 24 date: 8/17/07 day:

place LE reef

weather & wind: Cloudy, dead calm temperature: air: °63 to 77

catch: 3 fluke, 15 shorts, 20 skates, 2 robins

comments and radio talk:

Went out with Basil and Jerry on the Miss Lynn

... left the dock at 7:10, with cloudy skies and no wind at all ... Basil's oil leak was fixed and the boat ran without a flaw ... we stopped at "the tanks" on LE reef and set up to drift for fluke ... what drift! there was no breeze at all and we stayed on the same spot for half an hour ... got some fish though ... I got a fluke at 16 ¾" while Jerry (AKA "the fishing machine") brought in a 23 incher ... we thought we were in for a great day, but the lack of drift was a turn on for the skates ... lots of them and a good number of fluke that would have been legal last year ... we had all kinds of bait, but killies and squid seemed to be the best ... eventually, I got a nice 22 incher and Bas scored with another keeper ... our timing was good ... it started to rain as we came back in and didn't stop for the rest of the day.

SEPTEMBER REGULATORY REPORT by Dave Sikorski

The NJ Division of Fish and Wildlife recently conducted an enforcement exercise in the Raritan Bay area. 195 boats and 500 anglers checked, as a result 53 summonses were issued for various violations. Some fishing equipment was confiscated in the process. Most of the violations were for possession of short Fluke. Conservation officers have also been checking boats and anglers within our local waters, so be sure that the fish you keep on board are within the minimum size and bag limits for each species.

The 2007 NJ Fluke season ends (ended) on Sept 10. This was the shortest Fluke season in NJ, ever. Next year's season is likely to be even shorter! The NMFS has recommended yet another reduction in the Fluke quota for 2008. Even though the Fluke population (Biomass) is greater than it has ever been since they started measuring it, (currently over 100 million pounds and growing), it is not growing quickly enough to reach the 204 million pound target in 2012, as mandated by the Magnuson Stevens Act, which governs the management of Fluke. It looks like the only way to fix the problem is the get Congress to change the law which sets the target for the "rebuilding" of the Fluke biomass.

On October 1, the Weakfish bag limit reduces from 8 fish to 6 fish.

NJ Representative Frank Pallone has introduced a bill to give Blackfish (AKA Tautog) Game fish status in NJ. Blackfish stocks have fallen steadily each year since a market for live Blackfish in restaurants developed in the 1980s. Stringent regulations placed on the recreational fishery 20 years ago and tightened repeatedly have not slowed the decline. This bill would make it illegal to sell Blackfish in NJ. Blackfish stocks are now in serious trouble. According to fisheries managers, recreational anglers account for 90% of the Blackfish catch. We can expect to hear much more about this in the next few months.

Also, law enforcement personnel told the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission, earlier this year, that live-lining undersize blackfish for striped bass was a real problem. Have you ever used a live Blackfish as bait for Striped Bass? Do you know of anyone who ever has? How big a problem would you say this is?

The Asbury Park Press provides great coverage of the regulatory issues we face. We have created a new page on our web site that indexes many relevant articles. Please check out the new page on our web site, look under the "What's New" page, or simply click here: APP Articles.
